THE DUDELA CO. · PREP KIT ADD-ON

The Delivery Room Pack

The plan, shrunk down to what fits in your wallet and on your lock screen. For the moments you won't be flipping through a 31-page PDF.

The Prep Kit gets you ready over weeks. This pack is for the day itself. When it's 3am, the room is loud, and someone in scrubs is asking a question, you won't remember the worksheet. You'll remember what's in your pocket.

1

Print page 2. Fill in the backs in pen. Cut along the dashed line, fold in half, and tape or laminate. One goes in your wallet. One goes in the hospital bag.

2

Save the wallpapers. Open the links on page 3 on your phone, press and hold to save, then set one as your lock screen in the last month.

3

Read it out loud to her. Ask her what's missing and what she'd cross out. The cards work best when she's already agreed to them.

What's inside

Card one: In the room. Your job during labor, the questions to ask before a big decision, and the numbers you'll need.

Card two: If the plan changes. What to do when the birth stops going the way you pictured, and what she told you matters most.

Three phone wallpapers. The same reminders, where you'll actually see them.

> These cards support the conversations you have with your care team. They are not medical advice. In an emergency, follow your care team and call your local emergency number.

THE SHORT VERSION

Stay close. Stay calm. Ask before big decisions. Write things down. She leads. You handle the rest.

PRINT, FILL IN, CUT, FOLD

Your wallet cards.

Print at 100% (actual size). Each card folds to 3.5 by 2 inches, the size of a credit card.

CARD ONE · IN THE ROOM

Your job today.

1. Stay close. Be the calm one in the room.
2. Before a big decision, ask: What's happening? What are our options? Is it urgent, or can we take a minute?
3. It's okay to say: "Can we have a minute to talk?"
4. Speak up for what she told you she wants. Then let her lead.
5. Family updates go out when she says, not before.

DUDELA

WHO TO CALL

Care team: _____

After hours: _____

Which entrance: _____

Backup driver: _____

Home, pets, kids: _____

First update goes to: _____

FOLD HERE ←

CARD TWO · IF THE PLAN CHANGES

Breathe. You've got this.

1. Stay with her, unless she asks you to go with the baby.
2. Ask: Who's in charge right now, and what happens next?
3. Write down names, times, and what they told you.
4. Tell her what's going on in plain words. No guessing.
5. You handle the phone, the family, and the bags.

DUDELA

WHAT SHE TOLD ME

What matters most to her: _____

When it's hard, she wants me to: _____

She does not want: _____

FOLD HERE ←

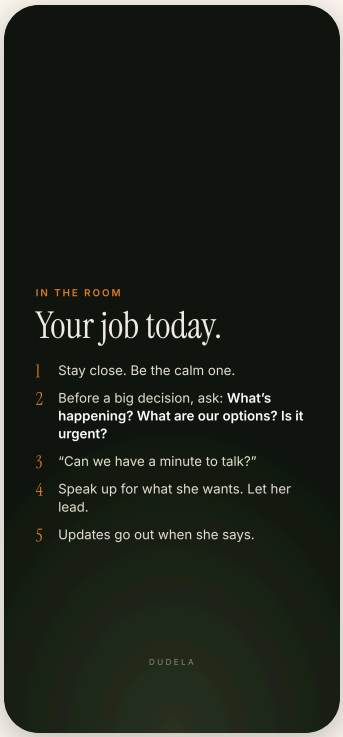

✂ Cut along the dashed lines. Fold along the dotted line so the printed sides face out.

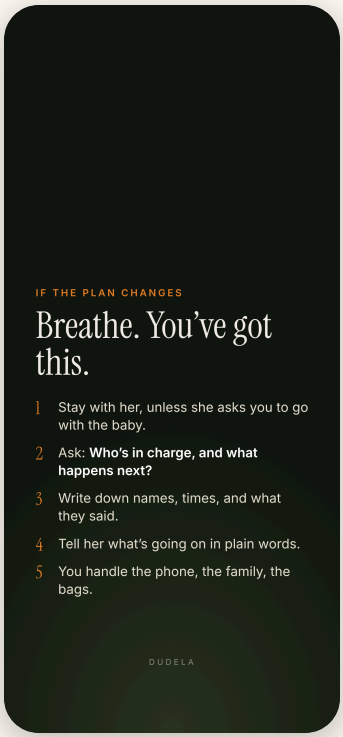

Fill in the backs together. Use the Birth Support Brief and Hospital Logistics pages in the Prep Kit, and her Birth Preferences page if you have Her Copy. If she wouldn't recognize her own words on card two, it isn't done yet.

FOR YOUR LOCK SCREEN

Three phone wallpapers.

Open each link on your phone, press and hold the image, and save it. Then set it as your lock screen for the last few weeks.

[Wallpaper 1: In the room]

[Wallpaper 2: If the plan changes]

[Wallpaper 3: The short version]

FROM JOHN & MIKE

Neither of us had a plan for the moment things changed. One of us got a month in the NICU, the other got a birth plan that changed in about ninety seconds. What helped wasn't knowing everything. It was knowing our job. Now you know yours.